DODGE BELIEVES

Greek Thinks He Can Pin Champion's Shoulders to the Mat.

Tom Dodge, the Greek wrestler, is just as confident that he will best Joe Turner in the wrestling match at Broad Street Park to-morrow night, as he is that yesterday's downpour of rain sounded the death knell of the straw hat. Not that the straw hat has anything to do with the wrestling match, only that Dodge asserts that Joe Turner's claim to the middleweight championship of the world will hold water about as well as the average

Because of this assertion and the fact that the two men wrestled to a standstill in Washington several weeks ago, the decision being given Dodge by the referee thereby engendering "bad blood" between the two men, tomorrow night's bout should furnish the best exhibition of the wrestling science ever seen here.

Joe Turner, the holder of the belt for the middleweight championship has made many friends in Richmond due to his clean work in all the bouts in which he has figured. His "go" with Billie Collins, of St. Louis, was a splendid one, and created a desire to have more events of the kind pulled off here. Along came Dodge and issued a challenge to wrestle Turner at 163 pounds. Turner claimed it was necessary for Dodge to come within 158 pounds in order to wreath necessary for Dodge to come within 153 pounds in order to wrestle for the championship, and Dodge came back with a proviso that he would make the weight if Turner would make the monetary consideration $500 or $1,000.

Football is occupying the attention of all the colleges and preparatory schools in and around Richmond. Gridiron candidates are becoming activity the base days, and the coaches are having their hands full with the world of talent offered.

At Richmond College, Chief Coach Dunlop, with the help of Assistant Coach Griffin, is putting the ment through the initial training. Punting, catching the ball, sprints around the track, and other work of the lighter sort is being indulged in. At the Medical College of Virginia signs of activity are being noticed, and while no glowing reports are being sent out it is a well-known fact that the "Medical College of the the the the world of the older school will do all that they can to maintain their supremacy over the warriors from the Commission Will Meet in New York Next Week for Final Arrangements.

Cincinnati. O., September 18 .- The National Baseball Commission will meet in New York next Wednesday meet in New York next Wednesday and make arrangements for the world's championship series, according to an announcement made here to-night by Chairman August Herrmann. The chairman believes that the arrangement for the distribution of tickets to the world's series, by refusing to book orders for ticketa from outside towns, and placing all the tickets on sale in certain cities, is premature. This plan was proposed by the Boston American League Club management, and Mr. Herrmann thinks that even if applied, it would not be management, and Mr. Herrmann thinks that, even if applied, it would not be successful. He is in 'favor of referring all matters in connection with the the games to the national comsion, and of obliging mail order requests for seats as much as possible.

Red Sox Cinch Pennant GERMANY SEEKS

Boston, September 18.—The Boston Red Soz to-day clinched the American League pennant. All possibility of the Red Jox being overtaken was disposed of when Philadelphia lost at Chleuge to-day the first game of a double-header.

To relieve the tension among members of his team, and to assure finally the pennant for Boston, President McAleer, of the Red Soz, notified the management of the New York Highlanders that Boston would not play off a postponed game scheduled for New York.

Boston now can lose all its remaining fifteen games and win the pennant, even though Washington, which went into second place to-day, should win all its remaining thirteen games, and Philadelphia should win all its remaining four-teen games, Sould this possibility develop, the final standing would be:

Jollification Meeting in Roanoke

Monday—Boatwright to Succeed Himself as President.

The annual jollification meeting of the Virginia League will be held in Roanoke Monday. The Tigers will be awarded the pannant and words of good cheer will be as plentiful as Jersey mosquitoes. One prime reason for the good feeling which will prevail is that the bumper receipts of Labor Day brought several of the club owners back on easy Street and gave them a chance to face next season without empty purses.

So far as W. B. Bradley is concerned he does not think that the election of a president can be held at this meeting, as the constitution provides that the chief executive be named at the meeting in November. It is also improbable that the question of cir-ival and the constitution provides improbable that the question of cir-ival and content to stay behind other countries in athletics.

that the chief executive be named at the meeting in November. It is also improbable that the question of circuit will be raised, though Roanoke may endeavor to force the hands of the league officials and find out definitely whether any move is to be made to out the Magic City.

PREPARING NOW

whether any move is to be made to oust the Magic City.

It seems positive that President Boatwright will succeed himself. Though not overly active in league affairs, the Danville man managed to keep himself out of trouble and certainly incurred no enmity from any of the magnates. His administration, while nearly is the effects was necessity in the effects was necessity. while negative in its effects, was peace-ful enough with the exception of the defection of Danville and the dropping of Lynchburg. The Newport News difficulty was fixed up quickly and satisfactorily, so therefore the Boatwright administration may be called a success, despite the ineffectiveness in securing good umpires.

1916. No more will the youth of the Fatherland confine itself to sports such as fencing, weight lifting and gymnastics. A movement has been started to bring the German young men up to a point where they will be able to compete with the best athletes the United States can furnish.

A systematic hunt is being made for two trainers who combine all the good qualities of Mike Murphy. Ernle Hjertberg and Lawson Robertson. It is, of course, impossible to find such men, but the Germans are determined to have none but the best, and they are willing to pay the price.

Before our athletes left the continent several of the stars and one Olympic team received offers to take charge of the German candidates for the next Olympic team. While none cared to accept, however, it is only a matter of a few months before this country will be minus a pair of its most prominent trainers and they will be found in various parts of Germany looking for promising material with which to form a team for 1916.
